Even Old Billy Goat Gets Driver's License

By Stanley Burke
Bulletin Staff Reporter
Well, folks, they've done it again—this time they've licensed a goat.
Yesterday I went around to the motor vehicle branch and took out a driver's license for William Goat himself. Having already licensed a dog and a dead duck, it was a bit surprised when I made the grade with Billy.

I found the MVB people still outgoing and still willing to license anybody or anything. As before, there was no check of any kind on the applicant, who does not have to appear in person to obtain the license.

Next week, Dinner at Antoine's will appear again in the Bulletin's comic page.

French Okay German Seat

Special to The Bulletin
PARIS, Nov. 26.—(UP)—The French national assembly voted early today in favor of admitting Germany to the Council of Europe, but demanded she be kept out of the Atlantic Pact.
The adoption of the resolution was a vote of confidence in the government's German policy. The resolution called for:
Admission of western Germany to the 13-nation Council of Europe formed in Strasbourg last August as an associate member.
A close watch by the French government on any attempt to restore Germany's industrial potential.
Rejection of any attempt to restore the Ruhr mines and industries to their former German owners.
Internationalization of the Ruhr industries.
Rejection of any attempt to create a new German army or admit Germany to the North Atlantic Pact.
Creation in the near future of a "true European political authority."

$150,000 Auto Court Planned on Kingsway

Building permits for a $150,000, 70-unit auto court and for a $100,000 addition to 102 street liquor store, yesterday boomed Edmonton's 1948 record-breaking construction total within eight of $38 million.
Largest enterprise of its kind in the city, the auto court will be built by John Schadeck at Kingsway and 106 street. In the area set aside by city commissioners for such developments.
It will be known as Fab-A-Mot, an acronym for Fab-A-Motor, and is expected to be in operation by July 1. Construction will start immediately.
Office garages will be two and four unit types with an office in one and a double garage spaced between them.
Each cabin will have slatted and eiched-plywood exterior, with four different styles and sizes.
Mr. Schadeck has built 47 new homes to house permanent Edmontonians this year, and now plans to start accommodation for the liquor store permit issued to the provincial department of public works, covers a fourth floor addition to the building at 1016-1018 street.

Free Oil Market to Aim in U.S.

Similar Privilege Would Go To States

CALGARY, Nov. 26.—"The provincial government thinks Alberta oil should enter the United States market duty free while at the same time American oil enters Canada on the same basis to supply the eastern Canadian market," Hon. N. E. Tanner, provincial minister of mines, said here today.
The mines minister explained he referred to the future production of Alberta oil fields, present output is supplying the local domestic market.

"The present proposal is to extend a pipeline from Alberta fields to Superior, at the Lakehead," Mr. Tanner told the Bulletin.
"From there, oil could be shipped by boat to Sarnia, Ont., but the economy of supplying Ontario and eastern refineries beyond that point is doubted."

"The Alberta government believes that it would be more economical if the pipeline were extended from Superior into United States area and the American market thus served."

"If Alberta oil were allowed to enter this U.S. market without duty, it would be a great advantage to be served by American oil entering Canada on a similar duty-free basis," Mr. Tanner told the Bulletin.

He stressed that provincial authorities felt an exchange of Alberta and American oil on a duty-free basis would be more economical than an attempt by Alberta to market oil in eastern Canadian areas beyond Sarnia.

"The matter is one for federal authorities to decide; we have no jurisdiction in this instance, but we do think our opinion is worthy of consideration by the federal authorities," he said.

Pinch-hitting for Premier E. C. Manning as banquet speaker last night, before companies were invited were yielding Alberta about $200,000 monthly in the current oil boom. He intended to outline the government's oil export idea to convention delegates, but did not do so.

Alouettes Nail Stamps To Win Cup

Montreal Power Wins Early Lead Held Through Game

By JACK MITCHELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VARSITY STADIUM, TORONTO, Nov. 26.—(CP)—In snow-footed style on a slippery snow-patched gridiron, the Alouettes won Montreal its first Grey Cup since 1933, today when they defeated the defending champion Calgary Stampeders 28-15 before a sell-out crowd of 20,100.

The past magic of Frank Flick and the fleet feet of his best pass-receiver, Bob Cunningham, spelled the big difference between the teams in the east-west football classic.

Calgary's Keith Spald also did some great passing as the expected aerial duel materialized. But Flick's team was the long payoff pitcher.

The Big Four champions spring into all early 11-point lead on two first-quarter touchdowns, both set up by the passing of the former New York Giants professional.

Stampeders, fighting all the way to retain the Dominion crown they won for the first time last year, twice tried to come back but the handicap was too great.

FIRST QUARTER
Wilson kicked off low to Tooby, who carried back eight yards to the Alouettes 26. One running play was smothered. Flick hit Cunningham with a 16-yard forward for first down on the Montreal 30.

A line play picked up two and a Flick forward missed.

Kick sailed off his feet as he kicked on third down, but the low bounding ball went for a good gain to the Calgary 22. Flick picked up for Calgary around end. Spald got away a good punt. Wagner jumped when he lost his footing on the slippery ground and he went to pick it up. Matheson recovered the fumble for Calgary at about the Montreal 42.

Rows banged 18 through centre to the Alouettes 17. The Alouettes ran eight but the play was nullified for illegal interference on the Calgary 17. Thugs Net Little Loot In Breakins

Two Autos And Business Places Looted in City

A wave of breaking and entry crimes continued last night when police reported two autos and two more buildings entered by thugs.

Their efforts, however, went unrewarded with no loot reported by the two victimized firms.

Entered were Cunningham's Wedding Shop at 214-102 avenue and Canada Motor Transfer, 1002-104 street.

Const. P. C. McElhiney found the first entry at Cunningham's at 2:35 a.m. Search of the building by police revealed drawers and filing cabinets had been ransacked.

Entry into Canada Motor Transfer was gained by forcing the front door with a crowbar type of instrument, police said.

SAFE OPEN

An open safe in the office was found ransacked with personal papers and cheques strewn on the floor.

Police believe the recent outbreak of shopbreaking and safe-cracking has been committed by the same gang of thugs.

Two car break-ins netted thugs three blankets.

First was reported by William Koukoulas of St. Regis Cafe who told police his car had been entered and two blankets taken while it was parked in front of the restaurant.

Ralph Arner of 378-90 street reported a blanket taken from his truck yesterday while it was parked near 107 street on Jasper avenue.

Sheep Breeders In B.C. Go Far To Get Herders

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—(BUP)—British Columbia's dwindling sheep industry has had to go as far as Spain to seek shepherd recruits.

This news was given today to the B.C. Federation of Agriculture convention in Vancouver by pioneer shepherd William Harrison, Purichard, of the B.C. Sheep Breeders' Association.

"Older herders are dying off," Harrison said. "I don't know if the industry will carry on in B.C., although there is no competition right now from overseas, the United States or eastern Canada."

Some Treatment On Rent Controls

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told the Commons today that either province requesting authority to administer rent controls would receive the same treatment as Saskatchewan.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott said yesterday that all federal rental control regulations would be made ineffective in Saskatchewan after March 31, 1948.

He said how the public unwillingly helps pickpockets.

"When a man goes on a streetcar he immediately feels his hip pocket for his wallet," said the Sergeant.

If an "artist" is on the streetcar, the unwary made it an easy mark.

HOW PICKPOCKET covers up after lifting wallet demonstrated by Detective J. B. Arnel. He places, as a thumb would, wallet under coat along over arm. This protects thief if victim feels wallet being removed and turns around suddenly.

ANOTHER METHOD used by pocket thieves is to slit bottom of back pocket open with a straight razor as Detective J. B. Arnel is doing here to Stan Hooper. After slipping pocket thief removes wallet from opening in bottom.

PROPER PLACE to keep wallet is shown by Detective Stan Hooper. Inner breast pocket of coat is safest for carrying wallet, they say.

Season Just Right, Police Say For Pickpockets' Operations

By Don Travis
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Pickpockets are operating in Edmonton. Police have issued a warning to citizens to "be careful" on crowded streets, public buildings and street cars.

"The season's just right for the roamer in the pickpocket racket," said Detective Sergeant Jim Peterson.

Blame for the recent outbreak was attached to "drifters" from eastern Canada drawn here by the oil money.

Only alternative to this, he said, was NOT to carry large sums of money.

"It's just as easy to use cheques," said Sergeant Peterson.

Another suggestion to cut down on pickpocket activities is to start queues.

"Where there is a crowd there's bound to be an artist," he said.

At street corners where people are waiting for buses, get them to line up, he said.

Carry this through to all public places, such as arenas and movie theatres, he suggested.

With the co-operation of the public the sergeant felt sure that the pickpocket hazard could be easily erased in Edmonton.

There are several ways in which the pickpocket operates, "however if you know your wits about you it isn't likely you'll lose any money."

The two most common ways of operating are:

Jostle a person on a crowded street car and lift the wallet.

"Nab the wallet" while a person is standing in a crowd.

PICKPOCKET CLEVER

Sergeant Peterson pointed out that to be effective pickpockets have to operate in a crowd.

Another technique rarely used here is the razor-blade "hit."

In this operation the pickpocket sneaks up and snags the back pocket open with a straight-razor and lifts the wallet.

Several ways to curb pickpocketing were suggested by Sergeant Peterson.

"First remember that the pickpocket is clever and a good judge of character," he said.

Therefore, carry a wallet or money fold where it will be safe.

He said how the public unwillingly helps pickpockets.

"When a man goes on a streetcar he immediately feels his hip pocket for his wallet," said the Sergeant.

If an "artist" is on the streetcar, the unwary made it an easy mark.

B.C. TRIES TO BE SOLD IN EDMONTON

A limited number of British Columbia fir trees will be sold for Christmas by the Y Mac club of Edmonton YMCA.

Advance sales are now under way by club members, and trees may be selected at the YMCA between Dec. 15 and 21, except Sunday.

These will be the only B.C. fir trees on sale in the city this year, to the best of our knowledge," says Doug Broadbent, in charge of the project for the Y service club.

Prices will range from $1.50 to $2.00, and sizes from five to 12 feet.

All proceeds will go to club service club.

Metropolitan Planning

Town Planner Noel Dant makes a first class beginning in his vital job when he suggests formation of a "super metropolitan planning agency" under direction of a competent person to control the growth of Greater Edmonton.

Mr. Dant's plan has the merit of taking into account one of the first problems of controlled expansion—the fact that sooner or later a metropolitan city, such as Edmonton, must inevitably extend itself over into its suburbs.

The problem arises from the circumstance that unless the growth of the suburbs has been planned as carefully as that of the parent city, conflicts of zoning and distribution of residential and industrial areas always arise when amalgamation takes place.

Thus, unless the town planning is spread uniformly over an entire metropolitan area, each amalgamation presents difficulties of adjustment.

If Canada Must Have Her Own Flag

The proposal of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire that Canada should adopt the Red Ensign as her own national flag could well be the basis of a starting point for all discussion which is bound to centre soon about that subject.

If Canada must have her own flag—and there seems to be a preponderance of opinion in favor of it—that flag should not be some wild amalgamation of heraldry, but of a design sanctioned by tradition and usage.

In other words, the Canadian flag should be a product of heraldic evolution with ripe historic meaning and not a product of patriotic invention with no historic meaning at all.

This is how the greatest flags have been made and that is how they should continue to be made.

The Red Ensign, as a basis for Canadian flag construction, has the sanction of both tradition and usage.

Indeed, the Red Ensign with a maple

The essence of town planning is to work to a pattern and prevent mistakes in development before they occur.

Mr. Dant's metropolitan plan, therefore, next to the principles laid down in a recent survey, is the backbone of all planning effort in Edmonton.

Mr. Dant is starting well. He appears to have a wide knowledge of all types of town planning and the experience to find the one best suited to the peculiar needs of Edmonton.

He has manifested no fantastic fixations with regard to pet systems, but has presented alternatives with every proposal he has made.

The appearance of his master development plan for Edmonton, now in process of preparation, is awaited with keen interest.

The institution of professional town planning in this city and the choice of a town planner appear to have been happy and important events in the life of Edmonton.

Leaf in the Red Field was Flown so freely in Canada a few years ago that most Canadians had the mistaken notion that it was the official Canadian flag.

Except in Ontario and some parts of Quebec there will be no passionate wish to retain the maple leaf as the characteristic Canadian symbol largely because the maple does not grow well in central Canada.

The maple leaf, which it grows so lushly as to be notably un-Canadian.

The maple leaf, then, is almost exclusively a symbol of the East.

In place of the maple leaf could very well be substituted some arrangement of fleurs-de-lis to symbolize the French-speaking Canadians who are now found in every section of Canada.

Such a flag, with the Union Jack in the top left corner and gold fleurs-de-lis on a white field, in a white shield on a lower right field, would make a handsome and distinctive standard, traditionally and historically correct and satisfactory to most of the Canadian people.

Letters to the Editor

Illicit Liquor

Editor, Bulletin.—After reading an article in Thursday's Bulletin, it reminds me of the time when I was taxi driving myself.

Has anyone ever given thought that an investigation may be in order for the city police department?

It is a fact that one city taxi company has a vehicle with liquor constantly parked on the street near their office with the vendor of their own?

Is it a fact that this liquor sale is free from police interference as long as sales are made through the taxi-owner himself?

If we were to get an order from the city police department, would we get any results?

Pleas For Commutation

Editor, Bulletin.—I read with much appreciation H. Taylor's letter which appeared in the Bulletin November 21.

He left his own business to work for Tommy and help him in many cases of overtime to help him out.

However, this does not alter the fact that a good friend of ours is dead, and I grieve as much for Mrs. Law and Tommy's children as I do for the young man who worshipped his father, and often asks me "When is daddy coming home from the hospital?"

I pray to God that his life will be spared and in the name of the children. With a commutation of sentence he can still pay his debt to society.

Timeless Christmas

Editor, Bulletin.—Some would did the fairytale of Christmas for a few grains of pagan soil on his roof.

I do not want to make this a lengthy story or cry for sympathy but the least I can do is to give a few facts.

I want to give you one instance: Last March, my husband asked me to phone the doctor and a detective to see him, he said he felt awful and was afraid something desperate was going to happen and he wanted to be put away for awhile.

Finally they came. The detective laughed at him, and the doctor ordered him to be put away at home and said he'd be all right.

Well, this was a narrow escape and has been the same on other occasions.

Tommy Law and the staff. There was nothing he wouldn't do for Tommy and vice versa. He left his own business to work for Tommy and help him in many cases of overtime to help him out.

However, this does not alter the fact that a good friend of ours is dead, and I grieve as much for Mrs. Law and Tommy's children as I do for the young man who worshipped his father, and often asks me "When is daddy coming home from the hospital?"

I pray to God that his life will be spared and in the name of the children. With a commutation of sentence he can still pay his debt to society.

Drivers' Tests

Editor, Bulletin.—In your editorial urging the government to have motorists subjected to tests before their licenses are issued, you seem to forget that most automobile accidents happen when drivers are going too fast.

They have tried to play a joke on the license department, but the government has failed and dead, dead, to fill in that the applicant had the use of his hands and feet, and his eyesight and hearing were good, how far he had driven a car.

There are scores of drivers, who could not pass a very critical test, but who drive a car from year to year without a mishap, because they are careful. Let the government lower the speed-limit and accidents will be fewer.

From Today's News

The new pact between Germany and Britain, the part of the western powers, is a common-sense recognition of the fact that the western world is essential to the welfare of the rest of the world.

This agreement is as close as the western powers could come to making a formal peace treaty as long as Germany is divided between east and west. It makes the Bonn Republic an integral part of the new economic system which is being inaugurated in western Europe.

Big George And The Inch Talk Politics

Down the street a piece from my theatre there an old-fashioned suds parlor called "Jerry's," and whenever I'm in the mood for a little stale air, I drop in and order a pannikin of ginger beer.

Last night when I walked in, half the customers were watching a wrestling match on the television between the Phantom and the Great Kabooli, and the others were listening to a radio program of George Smiley, better known as Long George, and Sid Perry, usually referred to as "The Inch."

"Money, money," I heard The Inch say, "take a squint at these wrestlers and see what guys will do for dough under this lousy system."

"What wrong with money?" said Long George. "It may have its faults, but offhand can you think of a better idea? Even in Russia they got it—or an unreasonable facsimile of the same."

ROOT OF ALL EVIL
"Money," said The Inch picking his teeth and gazing carefully, "is the root of all evil. It makes scoundrels of humans and com-mens of angels."

"Wrong as per usual," said George. "The real source of mankind, take my word for it, is power. Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely. And there won't be any peace on the face of this billion green earth until there isn't a Napoleon left anywhere but in the backshop down the street."

At this point, somebody dropped a nickel in the juke box, and Frankie Laine began screeching and cracking an imaginary whip at his imaginary team of mules.

WEDDING BELLS rang this week for stage and screen actor John Loder and fiancée Mrs. Evelyn Carolan. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Canon of Prince and Princess Cyril Scherbatov, New York.

knock him down before he knocks me down," he ended. "The trouble with the pecuniary motive," said The Inch, "is that it drives a man to drink and under capitalism, he can't pay for it." "Under communism, he may be too dead to drink it," said Long George. "Those little holes in the walls behind Russian police stations weren't made by woodpeckers, you know."

Jerry leaned over the bar and addressed himself in a loud voice to the two tanned Talmudists.

CALLS IT TERRORISM
"Fourteen beers," he said. "That'll be a dollar-fifty, and you're lucky I don't give you a bill for the three pounds of herring and rye you put away at the lunch counter."

"See what I mean?" said The Inch. "The haves, terrorize the have-nots. A man's got no dignity. 'In Russia,' said Long George, 'if you couldn't pay this guy for your beer, like as not they'd shoot you first and call you a Talmud afterward. Here, all Jerry can do is cue you out for the dollar-fifty and ask you to leave his joint.'"

The subside philosophers got off their stools, and with Socratic stationalism assumed one of the place.

PUT IT ON CUFF
"Pay you tomorrow," The Inch called back from the door, "you've got my unemployment insurance check cashed."

Jerry sighed. "Two nights a week I got to put up with these two," he said.

"George and the Inch?" I asked. "Yes," said the bartender. "Kabooli and the Phantom. Every Monday the Phantom beats Kabooli, and every Thursday Kabooli beats the Phantom. They ought to vary it now and then."

Inside Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—The former school teacher Elaine Townsend, running a gambling salon is just like the grocery business.

"The only difference is that you deal in cheques instead of soap flakes," she explained. Miss Townsend is a thirtyish, handsome blonde who heads some gambling operations in Havana, Cuba. Although she fails to see the glamor of her occupation, Hollywood feels otherwise. She will soon be the subject of "The Elaine Townsend Story."

Here to oversee the writing of the script, the gambling queen explained how she happened to choose her work.

"Have you ever lived where ten pastures were 40 before a drought?" she asked. I replied I had not.

TO WARM CLIMES
"Well, I did," she continued. "I stayed at the National hotel and out by the pool I would hear all the big-money talk. I happened to hear that the chemist de for and trap concession at the hotel was open, so I snapped it up."

"Later I became associated with the race track and I now operate all the gambling at the Montmartre. IT'S A BUSINESS

Doesn't she find it all exciting? "Oh, yes," she admitted. "It's fun to be close to the game—and gambling is a business where you have to stay close to your money. And there's a thrill in not knowing at nine whether you will be rich or broke at three in the morning.

"Gambling being legal in Cuba, there's a little dirty work."

He Looks to See If Town's Plumb

By Ken Edliff
Provincial News Editor

If there is any man around who knows what a good small town should be, it's A. Bradshaw.

Mr. Bradshaw is making an economic survey of the province and because he goes around a lot—so far he has evaluated Red Deer, Drumheller, Camrose, Lacombe, Vegreville—he knows what to look for.

And often, he says, upon passing through a strange town, it's hard to find.

What a fellow first notices, and he thought this applied to most visitors, would be trees along the streets, paved sidewalks, maintained streets, quality of the buildings, variation in stores.

If a visitor liked these things, he would be apt to stop. If he wanted a place to settle, he might even remain.

"If I was going to live in a small town I would look for one with all the utilities and some cultural development apart from health and educational facilities," said Mr. Bradshaw.

The average small towns, he said, have the same faults.

He listed these as (1) just growing without planning; (2) they build places and then look for water, instead of looking for water first, and (3) the food in the restaurants isn't so hot.

Slap Dash Ways

Mr. Bradshaw said he was always annoyed by what he termed the "slap dash way of serving."

A tourist, he said, doesn't expect quantity, but he would like quality neatly served.

"They cover everything with gravy," he remarked. "They should have more intelligence here. And with the wages most pay today, I think the cafe owners would expect this."

There should be some standard for hotels comparable with the privileges they enjoy, too, he thought.

In evaluating a town for future development, Mr. Bradshaw found his experience as a mechanical engineer was a big asset.

"You soon get into the habit of looking at everything you see if it is in plumb," he said.

With the provincial government since 1918, he started as boiler inspector, was acting chief inspector from 1930 to 1945.

Drumheller Male Choir Will Open Rehearsals

DRUMHELLER, Nov. 26.—The Drumheller Male Voice choir will open rehearsals for the coming season at the Legion hall this Sunday.

Present membership of the choir which has existed for the past 25 years, stands at 18. At least six more voices, it was pointed out, will be required to give the association a full range.

Bill Franklin, who recently arrived from Wales, will be pianist. The choir plans to give concerts under the auspices of various organizations throughout the region.

Pats 5th Straight Win Is 47-21 Rout of Starlets

They say a team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten. And that, of the senior ladies' basketball loop, just won't be beaten.

Last night at Athabasca gym, Pats knocked off Starlets by a 47-21 count. It was their fifth straight win of the current season.

Right now the slogan in the other camp is "Stop the Pats." In a second game last night Pats won, 47-21, in a rout of the Starlets, who were defeated by a 47-21 count.

Eleanor McIntosh, as she has done so often in the past, sparked Pats to their victory over Starlets, netting nine points.

Dorothy Allan was right behind McIntosh, netting eight points. Each earned for the team a basket in the first half.

Behind the eight-ball by an 18-10 margin at half-time.

And that was the ball game. Pats highlighted their campaign against cellar-dwelling Starlets by romping away to a 47-21 lead in the first quarter.

'GOOFY' GOMEZ TURNS 39

Terrible Ted to Tell Chicago Kids About It

By OSCAR FRELEY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26 — (AP)—Terrible Ted's (Ted Williams) 39th birthday was celebrated in a unique way.

Ted Williams, voted most valuable player in the American League, will tell 2,500 4-11 Club boys how it's done at a dinner in Chicago on Monday night.

He'll leave for his annual southern fishing trip Jan. 1. Everybody doesn't agree with Ted's selection over Joe Page and Phil Rizzuto, but it's compensation for being being out by Joe in 1948 and 1949 when Ted hit .366 and in 1947 when he hit .344.

Happy Birthday Today, Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, 39, Sunday, Johnny Miller, 39, Tuesday, Tommy Loughran, 47, Wednesday, Clyde Scharf, 48, and Thursday, Marty Marion, 37, and Cookie Lavagetto, 35.

Women's Professional Golf Association is getting ready for its first winter tour with more than 20 tournaments planned. The tour opens Jan. 15-16 with 14 member pros playing in the Tampa, Fla., open. . . . Pauline Peitz, former tennis champ now breaking 50 on the links, may join.

One of the most prodigious feats of strength this year occurred when Ed Jackson, Yale football star, lifted coach Herman Hickman to his shoulders after the closing victory over Harvard.

Chuck at the week: A Big Ten end, house over the weekend, was asked by an acquaintance: "When do you go back to school, in September?" . . . Don't get any, fellows, he was only kidding.

Charlie Justice isn't just going to leave behind football records when he departs from North Carolina. To honor him, a group of Durham alumni have started a Charlie Justice Scholarship fund. The income will be used to aid high school football players.

Steve Owen, coach of the New York Giants of the National Professional Football League, is reported on his way out so often that it's hardly news to say "I haven't resigned today yet."

There are numerous reasons why some football teams move the ball and others don't. But one, "Where to draw the line between bad tackling and good running."

TOHONTI, Nov. 26 — (AP)—Mayor Hiram (Huck) McCall yesterday tackled up a couple of printed signs to goal posts at Varsity Stadium here, scene of today's East-West football clash.

The sign outlined the chequered history of the posts. They were pulled down by Calgary routers last year and taken west. The mayor got them back when he visited the Calgary Stampede last spring.

SIDNEY, Australia, Nov. 26 — (AP)—Billie Whitlock easily defeated George Worthington yesterday in the semifinals of the New South Wales tennis championship.

Sidwell meets the defending champion, John Brown, in the finals today.

Bear Coach Whittles Puck Squad

It didn't take coach Clarence Shultz of the varsity Golden Bears hockey team long to whittle his club down to size.

Some 35 players showed up for the first drill of the season at the Gardens last night, and by the time it was completed Shultz had cut that number down to 15.

Those remaining with the team are: Goalkeepers Joe Moran and Bill Shultz; Forwards, Bill Dickey, Jim Fleming, Ken Cox, Ted Krayka, Bill McGarry, Scotty Sherriff, Vern Whittier, and Bill Engstrom.

Shultz also expects Vic Kuz and Bill Campbell to turn up for defence positions.

Location of Government Reservation Situated Near Willowdale, Alberta. Comprised of 27,600 acres in which Select Oils Limited have Acquired under Agreement at 75% Interest.

It is the intention of the Company to drill its first well on Legal Subdivision 13, Section 10, Township 40, Range 23 West of the 4th Meridian. Arrangements are also being completed to have a gravity meter survey made on the reservation above referred to. Drilling contract will be announced at an early date.

Geological reports have been prepared by Dr. R. L. Hetherford with respect to the above properties. Dr. Hetherford recommends that the Company should test the Airtac land by drilling and should proceed to explore the lands comprised in the reservation.

Crown Reservation No. 845 covers 37,600 acres of relatively green prospecting ground. Underlying this tract are at least five (5) prospective oil and gas fields. Similar to the Dominion area. Evaluation of this acreage from a standpoint of existing structure is made as a first step. If favorable results are found, a deep well test can be anticipated as being favorable structure.

The Airtac Agreement consisting of 1,500 acres is located in a favorable geological area. It is the intention of the Company to drill its first well on Legal Subdivision 13, Section 10, Township 40, Range 23 West of the 4th Meridian. Arrangements are also being completed to have a gravity meter survey made on the reservation above referred to. Drilling contract will be announced at an early date.

Shares of this issue can be obtained by communicating with the Head Office of the Company, Wallace Building, 9021 101A Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, or any Brokerage Company.

In the Province of Quebec our representatives are:

LAJOIE, ROBITAILLE & COY.,

TRYING DESKS FOR SIZE at new King Edward Park School, officially opened last night are Edmonton Public School Board members J. C. Macdonald, chairman, Robert H. Rae, J. H. Thorogood, and J. W. K. Shortreed. King Edward Park is the second of five $240,000 schools to be opened in Edmonton this fall.

King Edward Park School Adds to City's Facilities

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Prime Minister St. Laurent and Defence Minister Claxton lifted the lid on the simmering stew of Communist infiltration in the National Film Board—but dropped it quickly back before the House got more than a mere whiff of strange things going on.

Mr. Claxton's admission in the Commons that so tricky was the security situation in the film board that secret defence film jobs were being turned out to a private Ottawa firm, only confirmed what has been common gossip around the capital almost since the Red spy probe.

While film board officials say only two men have been fired under a security cloud, they make no mention of the half dozen or so fairly top-ranking personnel who have quit in the last year.

They didn't quit because they were Red, but because, as they privately told their friends, they didn't want to go on working where a small and pinkish-golden glow was in control.

PROMOTIONS BALKED

From such sources came stories of advancement in the film board being closed to all except "patriotic" there. There were also stories of "private" screenings of films straight from the Moscow propaganda mills and conveyed into Canada by diplomatic pouch.

Mr. Claxton's admission in the House showed the government all about these goings-on but, as in many other things, had decided to say nothing.

There was no doubt, either, what the government was doing about it. The government had tossed the whole problem into the laps of the RCMP with instructions to keep tabs on all the known Reds.

The war plan in every government department. The idea was simply to isolate the Reds from government work which conceivably might be interesting to Moscow.

REDS LEFT ON JOB

But the Reds were being left on the job, except in cases where they couldn't be "isolated," then they were being quietly eased out. The government's refusal to take any more definite action than this and its refusal to let the public in on what was going on, wasn't making the RCMP's job any easier.

Clearing out the Reds was a tricky maneuver—especially under wraps, the way the government wanted it done—and the lack of public support publicity would bring was making it all the more tougher for the RCMP.

Ottawa's highest paid stenographers—the House of Commons stenographic staff—were fighting for a round of wage increases. And the girls were looking at the Reds with a little more interest than they were.

The Commons stenographers are chosen more for their ability than for any other quality and they are crack-brained at their jobs.

With 200 members in the Commons this session, the number of stenographers has climbed to 130. The girls are paid a flat rate of $5 a day, based on a 7-day week. Their average salary comes out to around $180 a month. Comparable positions in the Civil Service bring around $100.

An additional 50 cents a day has been added to the $5 rate in consideration of the wartime cost of living bonus, bringing most of the girls up to better than $200 a month.

However, the stenographic staff haven't had a raise since 1942 and it's due for a new boost.

3 New Departments Asked By Cabinet

St. Laurent Sponsored Changes Will Be Debated By Commons

By Robert W. Buford
OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—(RUP)—The first session of Canada's 21st parliament entered the home stretch today. Despite, or perhaps because of, the absence of nearly half of the members, the government hoped to push through several resolutions dealing with the establishment of new departments.

The absence of MPs was not occasioned by the east-west Grey Cup football final today in Toronto between Calgary Stampeders and Montreal Alouettes. Members remaining here planned to attend to:

1. A department of mines and technical surveys.
 2. A department of resources and development.
 3. A department of immigration and citizenship.
- The three resolutions, all sponsored by the government, were expected to take up most of the day's sitting.

CABINET CHANGES

Coincidentally, present minister of mines and resources, was expected to lead the mines and technical surveys department, while Robert Winters, present reconstruction minister, would take over the resources and development department.

The cabinet job in the remaining department was the home stretch full of drive after one of the most productive days of the session.

Yesterday saw the bitter cabinet debate come to an end—much to the relief of the government, and the surprise of the opposition. On top of that, the house:

Gave approval to a bill to authorize the government to acquire the assets of Canadian Marconi Company and Cable and Wireless Ltd.

Gave second reading approval in principle, to a bill authorizing the construction of a segment of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in British Columbia.

Gave second reading to a bill to provide the federal authorities to take over Transcontinental Railway in Quebec under the C.N.R. Convention to become $260,000.

Cleaned up discussion of the estimates for the department administered by Secretary of State Gordon Braden.

Mr. Claxton's admission in the Commons that so tricky was the security situation in the film board that secret defence film jobs were being turned out to a private Ottawa firm, only confirmed what has been common gossip around the capital almost since the Red spy probe.

Sub Menace Grave In Any Future War

The Royal Canadian Navy "deserved" the criticism it received in the recent Malmgren report, Rear Admiral F. L. Houghton, vice-chief of naval staff said in an address last night to Edmonton United Service Institute.

He called the report an "extremely fair" criticism of "naval value" in future development of the navy.

The admiral pointed out that the report was essentially favorable to the navy. Authors of the report said it might appear overly critical of points which are wrong but these are far outweighed by points which are overwhelmingly right.

The stated the report did over-stress the critical aspect of the report.

Present problems in the navy are the inevitable result of rapid expansion to five times its present strength. Almost all wartime volunteers have returned to civilian life leaving the service with insufficient training.

SEA MENACE SERIOUS

Dealing with the submarine menace in a future war, the admiral warned that the seriousness of this threat is not generally realized.

"Without mastery of the submarine, victory will be lost," he said. "I want to emphasize that it will be lost—not might be lost."

The post-war submarine is a greater threat than the long range bomber, he said.

He pointed out that Winston Churchill was most concerned with the outcome of the Battle of the Atlantic than with the Battle of Britain.

Russia is now believed to have 25 operational submarines, he said, as compared with 40 German U-boats in operation in 1939.

Large Type Benthic submarines can travel at knots under water, can range 7000 miles and need never come to the surface.

"With an underwater speed of 30 knots they are faster than most anti-submarine vessels in service today," he said.

The new submarines fire torpedoes with a range of five miles which are filled with a "hummer" device which starts them on the target.

Submarines have a very excellent chance of hitting every type of ship," he said.

The five-mile range of the new homing torpedoes allows the submarine to fire while outside the normal detection range of escort vessels, he said in answer to a query.

Early Egyptians lived mostly out of doors, their dwellings being made of wood, or crude brick.

ASSASSIN MISSES PARTY LEADER

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 26.—An assassin aimed at the Liberal party leader there but missed. The assassin was reported last night to have been shot by police.

Schubert, his party's presidential candidate until it called for a boycott of the election, apparently escaped injury. But two party leaders with him were reported killed and his brother Victor was wounded.

Trailer-Trucks For Moving Cars

REGINA, Nov. 26.—(RUP)—Saskatchewan Automobile Dealers' Association has heard a suggestion that cars be moved to western Canada from eastern Canada factories by trailer-truck.

The suggestion came from A. Cameron of Motor Jew. He said drastic steps had to be taken because of the railway freight differential between eastern and western Canada.

He added: "When the railroads see that our industry is feasible, it is possible that the differential will be removed."

Food Surplus Here Howe Tells Commons

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—(CP)—In a statement which appeared to contradict that of a cabinet colleague, Trade Minister Howe told in the Commons said Canada definitely has food surpluses.

"There is a surplus over domestic requirements in wheat, oats, barley and several other products," Mr. Howe said. "It is large or small, depending on the product."

BIG MONTREAL UNDERWORLD

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—(CP)—Pacific Film, former assistant director of the Montreal police force, said today he plans to tell the truth at the risk of his own life.

Suspended from the police force 30 months ago for insubordination, the former police official announced he would "throw the spotlight on certain city hall and police officials" in a series of newspaper articles starting next week.

He said to show how the Montreal underworld operates "trick" and to establish the "system" and the intricate machinery behind the "open" games, racketeering and vice much in existence.

Mr. Pacific said he "already prepared a number of threats to prevent me from coming out with articles on the vice situation."

U.S. Firm Swings Jap Wheat Deal

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Bunge Corporation of New York said yesterday the corporation has made arrangements to exchange approximately $100,000 worth of Canadian wheat for Japanese products. He was commenting on a Vancouver report of the deal earlier this week.

The deal was reached on the basis of a "barter" system, in which the corporation has made arrangements to exchange approximately $100,000 worth of Canadian wheat for Japanese products.

Chance Given Wayward Boy

The hard luck life story of a 15-year-old boy yesterday won him freedom from a jail cell.

Bugene Chipeaux, 15, of North Edmonton, pleaded guilty in court to a charge of car theft.

An impassioned plea to court on how the lad's mother had struggled all her life to raise her seven children swayed the court.

Bugene, court heard, was the third eldest child.

He never did anything wrong in his life before until he was a car parked outside Brentford Park before that he had struggled hard to help his mother support his six brothers and sisters.

Magistrate A. I. Miller granted a 12 months suspended sentence on recommendation of assistant crown prosecutor Guy Beaudry.

Cheat Jailed For 6 Months

Nineteen charges of false pretences landed a city man in jail yesterday for six months because he "didn't believe."

Court was told that Bruce McLean of no fixed address recently was remanded for sentence to Jan. 7 on four charges of false pretences.

Between the date he was remanded and yesterday he had cashed an additional 32 checks, all for amounts less than $25.

"You were given a chance to go straight," said Magistrate A. I. Miller. "Apparently you couldn't."

He gave the man six months on each charge with sentences to run concurrently.

Fire In Loft Damages Mill

Fire of unknown origin swept a South Side lumber planing mill last night causing an estimated $100 damage.

The blaze at South Side Planing Mill at 10306 - 71st Avenue is believed to have started in a sawdust-filled loft.

Blaze spread quickly. By the time firefighters from No. 11 hall arrived fire had eaten through most of the roof. Using 1,400 feet of hose, firemen had it under control within 10 minutes.

Town Talk Of Music

By DICK SHERBANIUK

Percy Grainger, famed pianist and composer who plays a concert here Wednesday, has been at the wall of his home, then tipped off blue fire of wallpaper and handed it to the piano. Grainger still has the unique sense among his cherished pastimes.

"Carson" tenor Clifford Newdell and Philharmonia conductor Edgar Williams got together during the week to talk over old times. Several of the two radio work together in New York several years back with "Newdell" as a radio personality in an ensemble.

There's a young concert pianist in Edmonton who, interested in playing piano recitals in rural Alberta towns, doesn't mind the cold weather to go to the province, and some organizations might like to sponsor him.

He whittled his appetite on travelling during October, when he visited the Peace River area for a half-dozen concerts, and would like to do the same thing over the rest of Alberta.

In the meantime, Secura is lining up a Juvenile Grand Prix and a Juvenile Grand Prix and a Juvenile Grand Prix.

Philharmonia's conductor Edgar Williams says music doesn't seem to run in the family. His daughter, who is 17, is interested in interpretive dancing.

Richard Carroll, organist and chorist of Robertson-Wood Church, came out with a couple of red hot ideas this week. First, why doesn't one of the local radio stations vary its day job by having a steady music program? Second, why not have a steady music program?

Mr. Carroll informs us a Winnipeg station used to do this from 1915 to midnight every night, with collectors bringing in new or unusual discs, chatting about them over the air, and playing them for radio listeners.

Secondly, he has suggested to Edgar Williams that since the Philharmonia is using McDougall's organ for concerts and there's an organ in the church, why not program some organ-concerts, music, it's something that hasn't been done here for years.

So the Williams-Carroll combination is looking for a way to do this from 11:15 to midnight every night, with collectors bringing in new or unusual discs, chatting about them over the air, and playing them for radio listeners.

Local Music Talent Is Sponsored by WBM

Western Board of Music inaugurated a new scheme this fall to give local student talent a boost.

Each year, the Western Board holds a contest for students of which awards and diplomas are presented and students get an opportunity to perform before an audience.

New phase of the recitals this fall was the inclusion of a visiting student artist at each recital. Five out of six of the travellers were Edmontonians.

VARIED TALENTS
City pianist Robert Picard performed at Haysville, city organist at Haysville, city organist at Haysville.

Western Board paid expenses of the young musicians. Not only did smaller centers hear live performances by good visiting artists, but the travelling artists also got some valuable experience and, of course, of lesser importance, a public appearance.

Music professor Richard Eaton said the artists "performed in a most outstanding manner and gave great pleasure to those who heard them."

PHILHARMONIC PLANS TOP-FLIGHT PROGRAM
Philharmonia Society has a crack-jack program planned for its first concert of the season on Dec. 7.

The recognized symphony will be trying its wings for the first time under conductor Edgar Williams at a concert in the city.

There's also Gluck's "Ruslan and Ludmilla overture," Liszt's "Maze of the Minotaur," and a special program of five dances, Shostakovich's "Symphony No. 10," and a special program of five dances, Shostakovich's "Symphony No. 10."

Winnipeg's Sunday Deliveries
WINNIPEG, Nov. 26.—(CP)—Six major city deliveries and their employees have agreed to a plan eliminating Sunday mail deliveries. It was announced yesterday.

UN Approves Employment Drive
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(CP)—The United Nations Assembly voted yesterday to campaign against unemployment throughout the world. It adopted an Australian resolution calling for every country to take action to promote full and productive employment along its own path.

BING AND HOPE BOTH UNWORTHY OF TOTEM POLE

Writers also take note. Contest announced this week offers $20,000 in prizes to writers of the best story, play, and motion picture script.

It's the second Christopher Reeve contest, which opened Nov. 21, and closes Nov. 1, 1950. Believed the biggest offer in the world today, the prize are $15,000 for the winning book; $10,000 for the best movie script; and $5,000 for the best play script.

The Christopher movement is Catholic-sponsored, but is backed by Protestants and Jews. Movement held a 24,000 contest last year. An Episcopal, George L. Vreese, wrote his first novel, "Call It Treason," and a best-seller and won $15,000. Other contestants have had their books become bestsellers, and one—Lloyd L. Brown of Catholic University in Washington, D.C., won his book "Edge of Doom," bought by movie producer Sam Goldwyn for $150,000.

English Worker Here On Three-Month Tour

British women coming out to Canada to take employment for the Society, in its Canada on a three-month tour investigating conditions and interviewing other English women who have come out.

She is in Edmonton today. Last year, 500 women came from Britain to Commonwealth countries. However, only 27 came to Canada and Miss Cumber is trying to see what can be done to encourage more employment to leave British women.

In each large city, the society has a voluntary worker who contacts prospective employers. The society is interested in promoting friendship and understanding between Commonwealth countries and Miss Cumber says, "I will be a sorry day when people who want to come to a new country are not able to do so."

Miss Cumber's experience has made her particularly suitable for her present position. A graduate of Cambridge University, she has been a teacher, a social worker during the war and a worker with displaced persons in Germany following the war.

Sheep, Cock and Duck Were First To Fly

A sheep, a cock and a duck were the first creatures to ascend from the earth in a flying machine. Before man dared venture into the unknown regions of the upper air, he sent these three creatures before him, just as Noah loaded the dove from the ark.

The sheep, the cock and the duck were sent up in a balloon on June 8, 1783 by two young Frenchmen, the sons of a paper manufacturer.

UP 1800 FEET

The balloon rose from Paris, reached a height of 1800 feet, and then fell gradually to crash the air. It reached the earth.

In the same year on November 11, man himself made his first voyage of the air. Blaise de Biot, a young naturalist, and the Marquis d'Arlandes, a member of parliament, were the first humans to fly in the upper air.

Probe Ordered Into Grounding Of B.C. Vessel

OTTAWA, Nov. 26. — (CP) — Transport Minister Chervier said yesterday in the Commons that he has ordered a preliminary investigation in the recent grounding of the steamship Celestian, which ran ashore off Stanley Park, in Vancouver.

Replying to Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Quander), Mr. Chervier said he has not yet received a report from the registrar of shipping at Vancouver, but he has ordered a "preliminary investigation as is usual in these cases."

He said he would be glad to let Mr. Green have the result of the investigation when it is received.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Tray says it was probably the wind.

"Could it be Fannie Wolfe or Bessie, the bob cat?" asked Nurse Jane Wiggly.

"You forget, Nurse Jane," answered Uncle Wiggily, "that Fannie Wolfe and Bessie the bob cat are no longer wild and fierce. They are tame and good and kind."

"Maybe it was Fannie, the fierce watermelon," suggested Nurse Jane.

"I think not," said Buster.

"I hope not," said Miss Fussy Wiggly, the musical lady housekeeper.

"Aunt and baby, Cap'n Wiggily, sir, Nurse Jane is right. All aunts who are going ashore, lively now," shouted Jemmy.

"Come on!" called Uncle Wiggily. "We have brought Old Pop Tray down to his island."

"And there is one book on the shelf," said Nurse Jane. "It's my book that you have in your paw, Uncle Wiggily. And there's a picture missing from it."

"What sort of a picture, please?" asked Nurse Jane.

"It's a picture of a dog. It belongs in my book, Uncle Wiggily."

"I'll ask Mr. Tray about it," said Nurse Wiggly. "Mr. Tray brought you back from his island, Mr. Tray. Did you take that dog picture out of the book?"

"No, I didn't," said Nurse Wiggly. "I took a picture out of a book? Why—er—you know I don't like books, Uncle Wiggily."

"Maybe the picture was torn out by accident," said Buster. "This you look in your pockets, Mr. Tray?"

Blinded Victim Pleads Mercy for Attackers

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Four men who escaped prison terms today because the man they were accused of blinding told a judge he didn't "hold any grudges."

Being his way to the bar, Carl Reed Jr., 28, told Justice Eugene V. Alfano yesterday that he had been forced to fight men convicted of attacking him during a violent riot at the A.P.I. federal prison last January.

"I don't feel that these men should go to jail," he said. "I don't have any feeling of vengeance."

A few more statistics tell you the rest of the story:

If the surplus butter market is lost, at least half the number of private dairy producers would be unable to dispose of their milk. That means a loss of income for 80,000 farmers in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

If that 80,000-pound figure has a secondary role, it's because it is exactly the same as the amount of surplus butter produced on the prairies.

Which means that, even at its present rate of consumption, surplus butter is in a position to wipe out the West's Canadian market for surplus butter.

It means unemployment of 600 men, at least 250 of the 500 people currently employed in butter factories.

In Alberta, it means loss of $1,000,000 in income to provincial treasuries annually for butter and milk taxes.

It means the shutdown of about 100 butter factories in Alberta, and the unemployment of 600 men.

It means the starving thousands of needy Alberta families who are dependent on the surplus butter.

On The Farm

By Pat McVean
Margarine is made of vegetable oils, vitamin nutrients and the prairie farmer's pocketbook.

Well leave the facts about the dairy and vitamin for the time being—margarine manufacturers talk enough about them as it is—and set on with showing that actually there's a chunk of the farmer's cash going into every pound of the butter substitute.

Canada produces a surplus of milk—milk above that consumed on Canadian tables, or eaten as ice cream.

Some of the surplus becomes cheese and, manufactured in Eastern Canada, it's in a good position to compete with other countries' products on the foreign market.

ECONOMY WAS SOUND

But here in Western Canada, once freight hauls and high freight charges just about rule out the possibility of the surplus milk of the prairies becoming cheese for far-away tables.

One that has been sound economy for years—in it is to dispose of the West's surplus milk in the form of butter for the rest of Canada.

The fact that it is sound economy has been proved time and again. Of the 120,000,000 pounds of butter produced annually by prairie dairymen, about 60,000,000 pounds are consumed in nearby areas.

The rest—another 60,000,000 pounds—has to be shipped to the east.

Fireplace Always Welcome Sight Claimed Big Improvement

By James Allen
Who can deny that the sight of an open fire with crackling logs provides just that touch necessary to give real warmth and comfort to a living room during the cold winter months?

And who can argue that an open fire is not useful during those times of the year when it is not cold enough to light the furnace yet a little cheery warmth is needed at the close of the day?

The main factor against the open hearth type of heating is that under ordinary conditions you roast in front and freeze behind. This is due to the draught coming in from the front and the heat being lost through the back of the fireplace. The draught you do not get an even circulation of warm air throughout the room.

U.S. Charts New Anti-Race Course

By installing the latest type of open fireplace called a Radiator Heat-Exchanging fireplace you can get all the advantages of an open grate fire, and none of the disadvantages, also because of the construction and design there is no possible chance of smoking. Many contractors in Edmonton are now making them a feature in the houses they are building and they will become more and more popular as people get to know about them.

In appearance a Radiator Heat-Exchanging fireplace looks like an ordinary fireplace. Only the back wall is steel. The jamb and side walls are brick, preserving the genuine fireplace effect. Brick jambs also permit the owner some choice in the width of opening and the treatment of the side walls to blend with the surrounding mantle. Coal or wood logs are used as fuel.

In the ordinary type of fireplace, air for combustion is drawn in around the doors and windows in such volume that the air in the room becomes exhausted up to the chimney from three to four times over hour.

OUTSIDE AIR
The Radiator Heat-Exchanging fireplace heating is in the process of circulation, and then passing it out into the room. As the air is drawn from outside the house, heated, and then allowed to pass

Study Proves Colors Affect Human Mind

Color—and changes of color—can revive a variety of things. In addition to dull dingy rooms, uninteresting house exteriors, interior schemes of factory or office buildings, color can revive even the human mind itself and give it new pep and energy for the work ahead.

And color comes cheap in every man of paint, varnish or lacquer, that the hardwareman sells.

Medical authorities have been studying color effects for some time now, and out of their work have evolved some sound ideas of the part color plays on the human mind and human temperament and disposition.

Among the most obvious discoveries are those relating to "warm" and "cool" colors—and it is known beyond any doubt now blues and greens are colors which promote a cooling effect; and that rooms painted in derivatives of yellow and orange create a feeling of added warmth.

Blues, Greens, Soothing
Blues and greens are soothing colors also, and blue is known to have good effect on neuritic people and neurotics. Thus it is that the office rooms of neurotics frequently are painted or decorated in blue in order to produce a relaxing effect on patients.

Most young children prefer red, and red still holds place in the esteem of teenagers. It's a stimulating color, an exciting shade which is believed to increase the working power of the brain. It finds small favor with older people, however, probably because with age comes greater desire for more restful paint colors, and hence more restful paint colors.

Here are a few of the broad conclusions about various colors, which might be helpful to you when you are choosing new paint shades for a coloring job. Be it a room or rooms in your home, or just a side-track or so that you want to touch up to give it new life.

Green—Pleasant, cooling effects, useful in the abatement of excitement. Counteracts brightness in a room overly exposed to strong sunlight.

Blue—Another cooling, soothing color. Like green, it can become depressing if used in too large quantities, but is not depressing if used for backgrounds, such as walls, which are offset by small flashes of brighter colors from the furnishings of a room.

Red—a stimulating color which excites and increases the working power of the brain. Too stimulating if used alone, but excellent for supplying small vivid contrasts with more restful colors.

White—Cheery, attracts sunlight, reflects more natural or artificial light than any other color, but is inclined to be cold and austere if unrelieved by a more vivid shade. Definitely stimulating if used with red, yellow or orange.

Black—Useful for toning strong

Stocks Unchanged In Light Trade

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—(CP)—People were too busy talking about the east-west football game today to pay much attention to the Toronto Stock Exchange.

So the Exchange paid attention to the game, traders and staff taking time off intermittently to watch the Stampeder and Alouette parade up Bay Street.

The market barely went through the motions of a trading session. Shares in all sections showed about where they were, with volume around 200,000 shares.

Financial institutions, utilities and funds got the largest play among industrials. They broke even or were in slight advance, with a downward tendency in the latter.

Auto metals traded in the representation of the market. Light trading also broke about even in issues with more volume. Petroleum showing more activity.

CARLOADINGS ARE HIGHER, SAYS DBS

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—(CP)—Carloadings on Canadian railways increased slightly during the week ended Nov. 20 to 32,800 cars, compared with 31,513 cars for the previous week, but the total was below the 36,000 cars for the corresponding week a year ago.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that advances over the same week last year were shown in movements of fresh fruits, coal, coke, lumber and gasoline.

Declines were registered in grain and grain products, livestock, steel, building materials and railroad.

LOCAL CATTLE FIRM IN ACTIVE TRADE

Receipts on the Edmonton cattle market settled down to a normal seasonal volume this week.

With stock cars in plentiful supply, all facilities are in command of the handling situation.

Good action has been in evidence all week. Dealers and order buyers have been keen to secure their supplies at fully steady to low, higher quotations and have been unusually more lenient in their grading.

TOP STEERS 31.00

Buttle of good to choice steers changed hands at 10.00 to 20.50, with a few really choice steers bringing 21.00.

Good to choice heifers moved from 10.00 to 13.50 with choice light heifers up to 18.00. Good butcher cows are finding good demand at 12.50 to 15.00 and are being leniently graded with no discrimination shown against the heavier class.

Bulls remain steady at 12.00 to 14.00 for good weighty bullocks.

A few yearlings 15.00.

Demand is continuing for the better quality steers and feeders at fully steady values. Bulk of the good feeder steers moved at $15.00 to $17 and a few steady short kept up to $17.50. Good stock cows were quoted $14.00 to $16.00.

Stock heifers sold for $12 to $13 and stock cows $10 to $11.

VEALERS STEADY

Veal calves are steady, good to choice handweights bringing $12 to $20. Heavy calves realized $14 to $16 and common weaners $15.

Hugs are steady. Grade A for comments earning $8 for local.

Massey Magnificent In Mad Mate Role
By Pat Usher
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.-(UPI)—Katharine Cornell came back to Broadway this week in a play which, does not mind the fine acting and lavishly produced has been devoted to it.

"That Lady" is a drama based upon the romance of a duchess which rocked the Spanish empire four centuries ago. The time is late in the 16th century; the reign of Philip II, who sent the Armada against England; the ill-starred duchess is Ana de Mendosa, mistress of Philip.

Massey is splendidly alive as the widowed duchess who arouses Philip's wrath by her affair with his secretary of state. But the play is a slowly unfolding romance and its tragic sequel falls to capture the grandeur of the role.

"The Father" is the story of a man who deliberately drives his husband insane in a contest for control over their only daughter.

STILL ANGRY
WITH ME
FLY BABY?

I'M HERE TRUSTING YOU THAT I HAVE PROVEN... I FLEW TO CHINA TO FIGHT AGAINST THE
PUPPET TROOPS—AND NOW I AM PLANNED ON BEING WITH A TEN-HEADED THROTTLE
BENDER...

IT'LL BE A GOOD DEAL, REDWOOD!
—IF WE CAN
LIBERATE THAT
WAREHOUSE FULL
OF CRATED
AIRPLANES
AND PARTS!

ROGER, CANYON—
I'LL LET UP ON YOU!
I WILL PRETEND
TO BE THE SNOOTY
MRS. FITZ-BLU A
RICH LANDOWNER
—AND YOU ARE MY OVERSEER, MR. SKRIM!

MR. HO ARRANGED THIS...
SUCH A WOMAN EXISTS!
BUT SHE IS SERIOUSLY
ILL IN A BACK COUNTRY
MISSION... WE'LL TRUST
THE CONFUSION IN THE
NEW PUPPET GOVERNMENT
TO PROTECT OUR PHONY
PAPERS!

I HOPE
NO ONE HERE!
I DON'T THINK MY
TYPE OF
HARD-BO
LOOKS SO
GOOD ON THE END OF
A PIPE

WE'RE COMING INTO THE CITY... PLACES
PLEASE!—THE NEWSPAPER
IS ON... BE TALENTED
TONIGHT, D.R.!!...

FOR A MOMENT
I THOUGHT
YOU WERE CALLING ME
'DEAR'...

SUCH TIMING—SHE WANTS TO HOLD HANDS
JUST AS THE WHISTLE
BLOWS FOR THE KICKOFF!

DON'T TALK BACK TO YOUR BOSS,
SQUA
BLU V!

ASIDE, MENIALS!
MRS. FITZ-BLU
MUST NOT BE TOUCHED
BY THE UNWASHED!

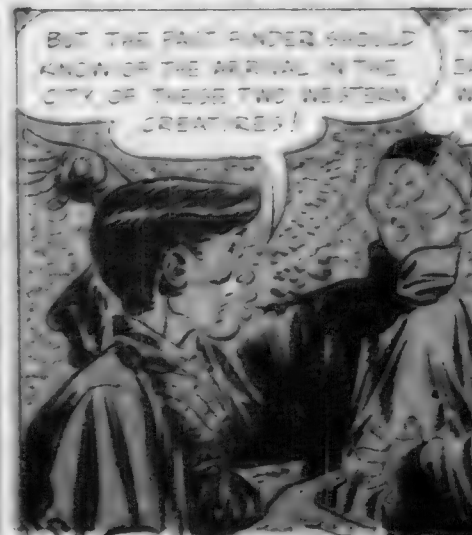

TO THE INN OF THE
SCARLET FISH—AND MIND
YOU DO NOT JOLT MRS.
FITZ-BLU!

HOW ARE WE DOING, DOE?

I FEEL AS IF I'VE
CARRIED AN ATOM
BOMB... OR MAYBE
THAT WOULD BE EASIER...

BUT THE PANT FINDER SHOULD KNOW OF THE ARRIVAL IN THE
CITY OF THESE TWO WESTERN CREATURES!

THE PANT FINDER TAKES HIS SANE, MOOSE-HORN RETURN
WHEN HE HAS FED HIS SPIRIT
IN CONTEMPLATION OF HIS JADE COLLECTION...

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR

Synopsis: SO GEOFFREY RIDES INTO CAMPE, HE WITH ALETA'S MESSAGE AND IS PROMPTLY ARRESTED AND THWARTED STEALING KING ARTHUR'S HORSE AND FOR DESEATING HIS POST!

"SIR BALDWIN, GRANT ME TIME TO DELIVER MISTRESS ALETA'S MESSAGE BEFORE YOU HANG ME!"

SIR BALDWIN SIGHS-- WHY IS IT THAT THE BRAVEST, MOST LOVABLE LADS ALWAYS SEEM TO BE THE MOST TROUBLESOME? "YOU WILL BE GRANTED NO FAVORS UNTIL YOUR TRIAL TO-MORROW!"

"BUT IT IS FOR THE LADY ALETA I MUST!" CRIES GEOFF AS HE TRIES TO FREE HIMSELF.

THROUGH THE ECHOING CORRIDORS HE RAGES, TRYING DESPERATELY TO COMPLETE HIS MISSION BEFORE MEETING HIS DOOM!

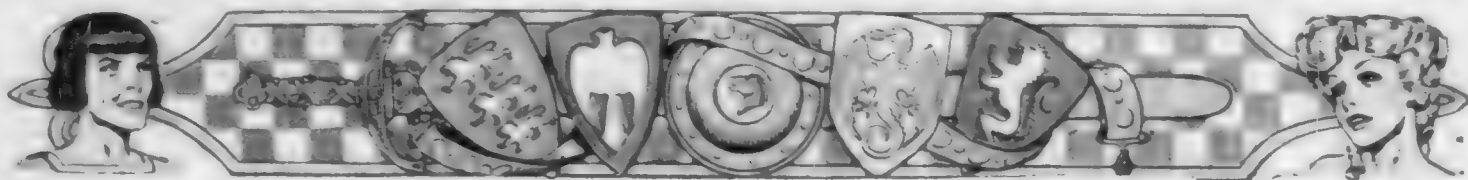

WHEN AT LAST HE FINDS KATWIN, TULLIAM AND THE YOUNG PRINCE AMN HE IS ALL OUT OF BREATH.

"THE LADY ALETA AND SIR BALDWIN ARE GOING TO TRAVEL. YOU ARE TO ACCOMPANY THEM AT NEWCASTLE WITH PRINCE ARTHUR."

"THERE IS AIDNEY FOR THE PRINCE. YOU ARE TO HAVE MEANS TO GET THERE. HURRY!"

THEN, WITH FIVE MORE COUNT AGAINST HIM, HE IS LED AWAY.

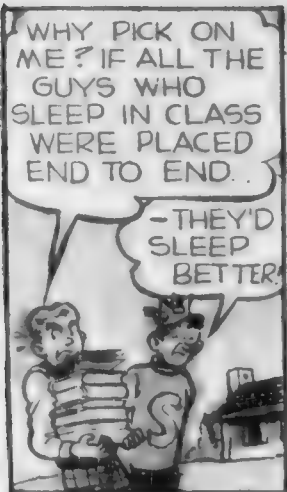

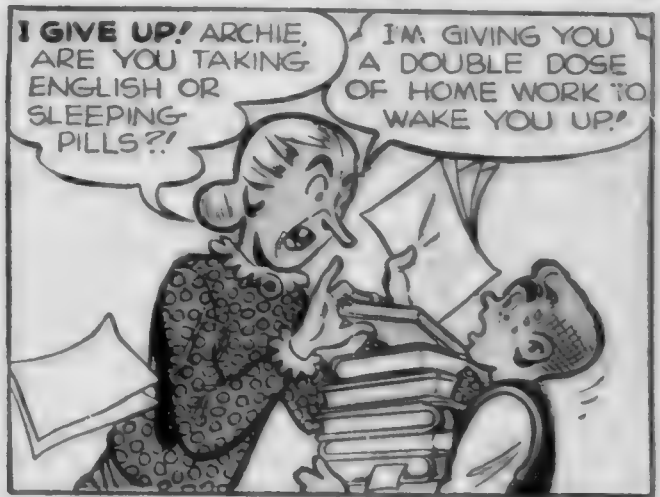

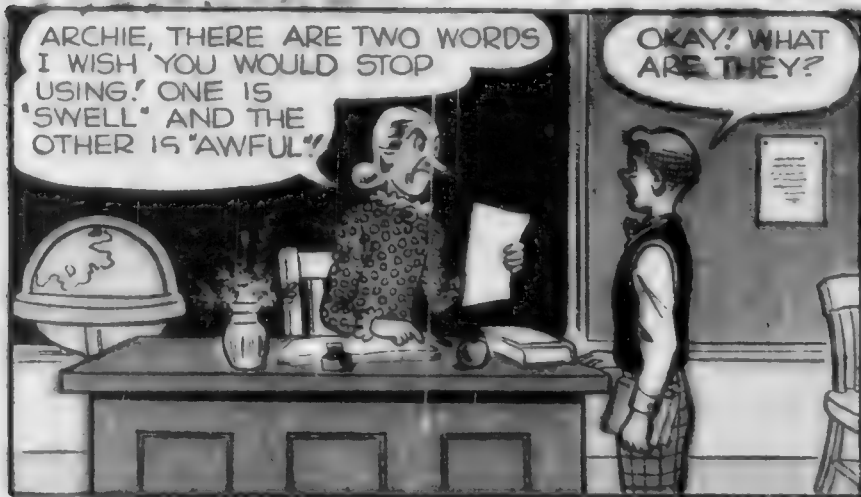

NEXT WEEK - Banished.
